

Ohio Counts 23 Dead In Holiday Traffic

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio's Labor Day traffic toll fell short of the official prediction of 28 deaths over the 78-hour holiday, the last before the summer ends.

Twenty-three persons perished on the state's highways between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

The single worst crash occurred in Cleveland Sunday when a car plowed into a crowd of people leaving an air show at Burke Lakefront Airport. The deaths of the five pedestrians was considered one of the worst traffic accidents in Cleveland history.

On Saturday, a father, his son and another man died in a two-car crash on U. S. 62 in Franklin County.

The dead:

MONDAY
GIBSONBURG — Charles Walp, 59, of Gibsonburg, in a two-car crash on Ohio 600 in Sandusky County.

NORTH STAR — Wilbur A. Thwaites, 40, of Greenville, in a two-car crash on a Darke County road south of North Star.

SUNDAY

CLEVELAND — Camillo J. Resch, 70; his son, Phillip, 37, and grandson, Terry, 8, all of Lorain, and Gery

Williams, 33, and his 6-year-old son, Paul, of Eastlake.

NEWARK — Timothy Reeder, 19, Newark, when he apparently lost control of his vehicle on Ohio 13 just north of Newark and it slammed into a sign.

WILLARD — Douglas A. Snook, 14, of Willard, when struck by a car while riding his bicycle along a rural road near Willard.

SATURDAY
COLUMBUS — Aaron Bosley, 73, Columbus, struck by a car in Columbus.

LOUDONVILLE — Richard H. Welch, 21, Lakeville, in a motorcycle-car collision on Ohio 226 in Holmes County one mile southwest of the Wayne County line.

COLUMBUS — Sterling Early, 27, his son, Harold, 5, and another driver, James Syphers, 44, all of Columbus, in a two-car accident on Ohio 62 in Franklin County.

NAPOLEON — Michael Rohn, 17, Defiance, in a two-car crash on Ohio 108 in Henry County.

BEDFORD — Charles Collins, 54, Willowick, struck by a car on Interstate 271 near the Ohio 14 exit as he went to assist a disabled car on the center median.

CLEVELAND — Fred Bickerstaff, 56, Cleveland, as he sat in a bus shelter which was struck by a bus carrying high school football players to practice.

AKRON — Ralph Kell, 25, Barberton, in a one-car accident on the Kenmore leg of the Akron Expressway.

FRIDAY NIGHT
AKRON — Dennis D. Roberts, 24, Medina, when his motorcycle went beneath a truck on Kenmore Boulevard in Akron.

AKRON — Beverly Keller, 26, Akron, in a two-car crash on Waterloo Road in Akron.

KENT — Charles J. Campbell, 22, Akron, in a one-car mishap on Portage County Road 81 south of Kent.

AKRON — Ralph Hess, 80, Akron, when struck by a car on U. S. 22 east of Akron in Summit County.

MILLERSBURG — Ricky Gray, 16, Millersburg, when his motorcycle left Ohio 83 in Coshocton County and struck a culvert.

Congress Back On Job; Faces Fight With Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returns from a month-long summer recess Wednesday to begin its hectic year-end legislative push and renew its battle with President Nixon over war and spending.

Between now and Christmas it hopes to put out major war powers, spending and pension protection bills and get at least House approval of the foreign trade bill.

The Senate Watergate hearings are expected to resume in two weeks. Hearings on the confirmation of Dr. Henry A. Kissinger as secretary of state begin Friday.

Democratic leaders' one-time goal of adjourning the 93rd Congress' first session by Oct. 15 is almost certain to be abandoned, with the battle between the President and Congress expected to contribute to the delay. Nixon has indicated he will veto a $2 minimum wage bill and measures to curb the president's war making and money impoundment powers.

Congress passed the minimum $2-an-hour wage bill before the recess, but deliberately withheld it to prevent Nixon from pocket vetoing the measure while the legislators were recessed.

The bill to curb the president's war making and money withholding powers are in the final stages of congressional approval.

Both bills have passed both the House and Senate in different forms. House-Senate conferees must work out compromises for final approval.

The Senate war powers bill would limit the president's power to commit U.S. combat troops abroad without Congress' approval to 30 days. The House bill would limit it to 120 days.

The bills on withholding money are aimed at Nixon's refusal to spend some $8 billion appropriated by Congress. Nixon asserts the spending would be inflationary.

The House bill would give Congress 60 days to veto a president's refusal to spend congressionally approved funds. The Senate bill would require the president to spend the money unless Congress voted within 60 days to approve the chief executive's decision.

The House is scheduled to vote Sept. 12 on overriding Nixon's veto of a $185-million, three-year federal aid program to improve local ambulance and other emergency services.

The Senate voted before the recess to override the veto, but the House is expected to sustain the President's action.

Big Wheat Crop Won't Cut Prices

By NORMAN J. BADERLEY
Associated Press Writer

A record world grain harvest is predicted this year. But experts say grain prices will continue to rise because of soaring demand.

The results will be seen in the prices on the bread and cookie shelves in your neighborhood supermarket. The hamburger, steaks and roasts in the meat chiller are likely to stay high also, because grains feed the animals that produce the meat.

The paradox of record production at the same time as escalating prices—and a drop in world grain stocks—is due to a "strong, unabated world demand" for wheat, the International Wheat Council reports.

The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization warns that import demands can be expected to go still higher in coming years.

In an effort to do something about the situation, the organization has called an urgent meeting in Rome on Sept. 20 for representatives of the world's major wheat exporting nations.

Unless exportable stocks are increased, the organization says, the world's developing countries will be particularly hard hit. These comparatively poor countries, with an insatiable demand for grain to build up food and feeding stocks, account for about 50 per cent of world wheat imports.

Escalating costs, which the wheat council calls unprecedented, could seriously disrupt the economies of the developing nations and put a pinch on pocketbooks in the rest of the world.

The situation where more wheat is being grown but more people are demanding it has led to a serious drop in world stocks, to what the council describes as the critical level of 23 million tons estimated for the 1973-74 crop year.

The Soviet Union's record wheat purchases in 1972 were an important factor in depleting world stocks and sending prices up, the U.N. food organization says. The Soviets, who used to be exporters, have bought about nine million tons of wheat and 18 million tons of coarse grain in the last 18 months, officials in London report.

Soviet leaders are counting on a record grain harvest this year. But Moscow reports it is unlikely to reach the target of 197.4 million tons of grain, so more purchases may be necessary.

In the United States, where farmers feed not only the nation but also a large part of the world, soaring wheat and feed grain exports brought requests from bakers and other grain consumers for export restraints.

The wheat council suggested that consuming less wheat was one way to balance stocks with requirements. But it pointed out that use of substitutes for wheat as animal feed may be limited because prices of coarse grains and other feedstuffs also have gone up.

Rail Union Ends Holdout In Canada

TORONTO (AP) — The last holdout union in the Canadian rail strike ordered its members to return to work Monday night in compliance with Parliament's back-to-work legislation. But there were reports of resistance to the order from several locals.

Some workers reportedly continued to man picket lines in Vancouver, Thunder Bay, Ont., and Winnipeg, which remained a roadblock to transcontinental freight and passenger trains. In British Columbia, the country's westernmost province, rail traffic remained at a standstill.

D. N. Secord, president of the 18,000-member Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, said 96 of 120 union locals voted to obey the back-to-work legislation. The law was passed Saturday by Parliament, which enacted similar laws to deal with rail strikes in 1950 and 1966.

Secord said, "Our members go back reluctantly, aware that their fight for a fair settlement has once again been crushed by the combined forces of Parliament and the railway companies."

Trains rolled in the eastern provinces, and East Coast ferries went back into service during the weekend after the nine-day national strike.

On the prairies, the Canadian National Railway reported that operations west of Winnipeg had returned to normal and grain trains were being assembled.

Commuter service to Toronto and Montreal also was operating today after the long weekend.

ROUND TOWN

COURTHOUSE office hours change today. Beginning this week, offices of elected officials will remain open until 4 p.m. on Wednesdays and close at 6 p.m. on Fridays.

ONE of the landmarks in Circleville is moving. Puckett's Hamburger Inn has been located in the Crist Building on North Court Street since the depression days of the early 1930s. Times were hard and it was pretty difficult to scrape up the nickel that a hamburger cost in those days. Next week it will open in its new location on Watt Street.

Tropical Storm Delia Threatens Gulf Coast Areas

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Tropical Storm Delia, poised 140 miles offshore here, gathered strength today and turned slightly north with her ill-defined eye pointed once again at the Louisiana coast.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see it go ashore on the Louisiana coast but right now I'm going to hold off about where," said Davis Benton, chief meteorologist at the Galveston National Weather Service office. "The thing is going to find a more definite track and on a more northerly course."

Delia teased Texas coastal residents through the night, hanging offshore with a disorganized center and little movement, but producing swells and high tides from Freeport to Cameron, La.

The 9 a.m. EDT advisory from the National Weather Service showed the storm, with winds of 65 to 70 miles an hour, had drifted very slightly toward the north and was picking up strength.

At 9 a.m., the storm was located at latitude 27.8 north longitude 93.3 west, or about 140 miles southeast of Galveston.

"If we can get a few more fixes on radar in the next couple of hours, we are going to be able to come up with a prediction. This storm is essentially in the same location as it was at 11 o'clock last night," Benton said.

The advisory said six-foot tides and rains or up to 10 inches would accompany Delia when she finally comes ashore.

The upper Texas coast area began evacuations and preparations for the storm Monday afternoon when it turned abruptly from the Louisiana coast and pointed toward the Galveston-Freeport area.

Hot and humid conditions were expected to return to many parts of the eastern half of the nation today following some relief Monday.

Thundershowers dampened scattered areas across the nation today, particularly from Oklahoma northward through the lower and middle Mississippi Valley and into Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

Rain also dampened areas in North Dakota and along the Atlantic coast.

Temperatures before dawn dropped into the 50s over the northern Plains.

Small-craft warnings were up in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, where rough waters were churned up by Christine, which has weakened and was demoted from a tropical storm to a tropical depression. Christine roamed the Leeward Islands with 25-mile-per-hour winds.

Weather

Partly cloudy and warm today, tonight and tomorrow with a change of scattered thundershowers. High Monday, 94; low, 63. High today, 90. Low tonight, 65. High Wednesday, 90.

Nixon Attends Colby Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, participating today in the swearing-in of William E. Colby as director of the Central Intelligence Agency, termed the new CIA chief "a true professional in the best sense of the word."

Nixon, who provided what he termed the "official bible" for the oath-taking in his Oval Office, said Colby's career was not well known because in the CIA, "Your successes usually must remain unknown and your failures become known."

In informal remarks, Nixon noted Colby's direction of pacification programs in South Vietnam from 1968 to 1971. He thanked him for helping to build South Vietnam "into a viable country, which is now paying off."

The 53-year-old chief of intelligence organization told Nixon he hopes not only to provide the administration with facts but to apply human values in applying those facts and analyzing them.

The President, apparently in jest, admonished Colby to let him know when anything is going to happen anywhere in the world "before I read it in the papers."

"That's a very direct charge," Colby responded.

Colby, who had been deputy CIA director for plans, the undercover section of the agency, became the third chief of the organization under the Nixon administration.

Kentuckian Drowns At Newport Club

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — The body of a Bellevue, Ky., man was recovered from the Ohio River Sunday following an accidental drowning at the Newport Yacht Club, police said.

John McNutt, 34, fell in the water as he was stepping from a boat to a dock, police said.

Consumer Gains Food Price Help

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The food price see-saw tilted a bit in favor of the consumer toward the end of August, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows. But the family grocery bill is still about seven per cent higher than it was six months ago.

The biggest declines came in the price of pork chops and eggs, which skyrocketed after they were freed from controls in mid-July. Chocolate chip cookies and butter went up in price, but the increases were offset by the poultry and pork drop.

The AP surveyed the prices of 15 food and nonfood items in 12 cities on March 1 and has rechecked them at the beginning of each succeeding month. An additional check was made on Aug. 13, the day after the Phase 4 economic program began.

A number of developments kept food prices in the headlines during the six-month survey period: the nationwide meat boycott during the first week in April, controls imposed first on meats and later on all other consumer goods, the Phase 4 economic program and the lifting of price ceilings, the beef shortage sparked by cattlemen withholding livestock to protest the continuation until Sept. 12 of the freeze on beef.

The Sept. 1 marketbasket check disclosed that, while pork chops and eggs declined during late July and early August, they remained well above their March 1 levels in most areas.

The total marketbasket bill was up in every city from March 1 to Sept. 1. Increases averaged seven per cent and ranged from one per cent in Seattle to 15 per cent in Philadelphia.

Exactly half of the total number of items checked increased in price during the six-month period. Twelve per cent of the items decreased in price; 26 per cent were unchanged; and 12 per cent were not available on one of the three survey dates.

The picture improved toward the end of the six-month period. The marketbasket total declined in nine cities in the time between Aug. 13 and Sept. 1 and was up in only three. Decreases ranged from one per cent in Boston to seven per cent in Los Angeles and increases were one per cent or less.

Sheriff Continues Probe Of Death Of Columbus Girl

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff today is still seeking an answer to the mystery of how and why the body of 18-year-old Hanna Louise Stump, Columbus, was left at Deer Creek Lake State Park.

The body was found, fully clothed, laying in the gravel parking lot used mostly by fishermen just off Route 207 at 8 a.m. Saturday by Homer Long, park ranger.

There were no indications of any violence or struggle. A shopping bag containing a change of clothes and a pocketbook were found near the body.

According to information Radcliff has been able to uncover, Miss Stump left home about two months ago and has been seen only once since then by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stump.

The body was taken to Davidson Laboratories, Columbus, where an autopsy was conducted. Sheriff Radcliff is still awaiting an official report from the laboratories before releasing information on the cause of death.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Shoedinger Mid Town Chapel, 229 E. State St., Columbus, where Services will be held 1 p.m. Friday. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were up today, continuing advances made last week. Some analysts were hoping this was an indication of long-term strength.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 5.42 at 892.99. Advancing issues on the New York Stock Exchange had an almost 3-to-1 lead over declines in moderate trading.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index, a new index started with today's session and based on a value of 100 as of the close Friday, Aug. 31, was up .65 at 100.65.

The Amex volume leader was Combustion Equipment, up 1% at 24 1/2. The New York Stock Exchange's broad-based index of some 1,500 common stocks was up .20 at 55.84.

Minnesota Mineral & Mining, down 1%, at 84 3/4, was the Big Board volume leader, followed by Ramada Inns, up 1/2 at 10; Travelodge International, unchanged at 11 3/4, and McGraw Hill, up 3/8 at 9 1/2.

Guards Blamed For Outbreaks At Lucasville

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Citizens Task Force on Corrections placed most of the blame today for recent disturbances at the state prison at Lucasville on the prison administration and the guard force.

In an 11-page report released by Gov. John J. Gilligan, the task force said the prison was opened too soon and security was too lax when it began accepting prisoners in September 1972.

The force recommended that Gilligan reconsider the decision not to appoint a permanent, independent advisory board to the state Department of Rehabilitation and Correction.

Gilligan told newsmen that he had agreed to the recommendation.

Two guards at the Lucasville institution were shot to death July 24, one of them by an inmate.

Members of the task force visited the prison twice after the incident.

Gilligan had studied the report for a week before making it public.

A five-page statement on what was being done to implement the report was issued by the governor at the same time.

The task force said the situation at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility, at Lucasville, remains dangerous.

"Many signs point to troubles: Unionization of guards and prisoners; the nature of the institution and its inmates; dissension among prisoners; hostility and fear in the wake of recent disturbances," the report noted.

The task force, headed by Common Pleas Court Judge Bernard Friedman of Cleveland, said events of the past few weeks had shown the importance of having knowledgeable, impartial citizen observers in the state prisons.

"Had such a board been created in 1972, it might have foreseen and hopefully helped defuse the conditions which make the present situation explosive," the report said.

The task force said some guards showed open hostility to both the administration and the inmates following a series of stabbings in 1973.

After the shooting incident involving only one inmate, the task force indicated many of the guards—most of them inexperienced—went on a rampant crackdown.

It quoted one guard captain as saying: "I could not control my men. I never saw anything like it."

The task force said the angry guards stripped the prisoners naked, ransacked their possessions, and confiscated or destroyed many of the items.

It said the prisoners were kept without clothes from one day to more than a week and were deprived of soap, towels, bedding, toothbrushes and toothpaste.

"Many family photographs were ripped up by angry guards, radios smashed and personal possessions indiscriminately confiscated," the report said.

"One correctional officer...said he saw another officer on an upper range toss a radio to an officer down below, who deliberately turned his back so the radio would fall to the floor and be smashed," the report said.

Gilligan said he had ordered that items taken from prisoners be returned or be replaced if possible.

The governor noted the task force cited a breakdown of management and discipline.

"I consider it deplorable that there were apparently wholesale violations of departmental orders by guards following the shootings. This has been stopped. I don't condone violence in any form—by or upon the inmates," he said.

The superintendent of the prison at the time of the shootings, W. J. Whealon, has since resigned.

Tryouts Set For Staging Of "Gypsy"

Auditions will be held beginning 7 p.m. Friday in the Memorial Hall Theater for the upcoming production of the musical comedy, "Gypsy."

Tryouts are open to the public for the Roundtown Players' staging scheduled to be presented Nov. 7, 8, 9 and 10 with a matinee on Saturday, Nov. 10.

The cast will consist of approximately 40 men, women and children. "Gypsy" originally starred Ethel Merman in the lead role of Rose. Other lead roles include: Herbie, a man in his late 30s or early 40s; Baby June and her sister, Louise, 8-12 years old; June and Louise (Gypsy), as adults; Tulsa, 18-20 year-old man; and three strippers, Mazeppa, Tessie and Electra.

Several other children are also needed for the cast in addition to Baby June and Louise. They will be required to sing and dance in at least two numbers. There are also several minor speaking parts for both men and women.

In addition to the Friday evening auditioning, a special session will be held for children only on Sunday beginning 1 p.m. in the theater. A final session for those interested in reading, singing or dancing will be held 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Rehearsals will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 12th. Children involved in the cast will be dismissed no later than 8:30 p.m. throughout the rehearsal schedule.

Patrol Handles Accidents

Highway Patrol officers were investigating four accidents at presstime today, including one involving a Sturm and Dillard truck driver. No information on the crashes were available this morning.

Over the weekend, an accident which injured five persons and a second one which caused injury to one were investigated by Patrolmen.

At 8 a.m. Saturday, cars operated by Vernon D. Sheeks, of Mansfield, and James A. Kohler, 69, of Columbus, collided on Route 23 a mile south of the Franklin County line.

Kohler was cited by Officer Fred Summers for failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead when he ran into the rear of Sheeks' auto, which was slowing for a left turn.

Ptl. Summer reported one minor injury resulting from the crash.

Shortly before 8 p.m. that evening, a car operated by Robert Earl Redditt, 18, of Grove City, made a left turn into a car driven by Kenneth Henn Jr., 22, of 907 S. Washington St.

Ptl. Ron Burkhardt reports that Redditt was headed east on Route 22 and attempted a left turn onto Route 104, striking the side of Henn's vehicle.

Injured were Redditt and a passenger in his auto, Connie L. Plummer, 17, of Columbus, in addition to Henn, his wife Sandra, 23, and son Kenneth III, age 3. Injuries were minor.

Mid-Ohio Selects New Director

Jack T. Kindig, formerly administrator of Springfield Community Hospital, has joined the staff of the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation.

Kindig's new position as Director of Financing of Health Care was announced today by Delbert Pugh, Executive Director of the Federation.

Kindig is well known in Ohio hospital and health care circles, having served on various committees while at Springfield. He was chairman of the Hospital Administrators Council, District 11 composed of 16 Ohio counties, and a member of the Professional Relations and Insurance Committee of the Ohio Hospital Assn. in 1968.

After leaving Springfield, Kindig was administrator of the Carle Foundation Hospital at Urbana, Ill., and more recently administrator of the new Desert Springs Hospital at Las Vegas, Nev., where he participated in the design, construction and staffing of the facility.

At the Federation, Kindig will assist the 17 county councils in problems having to do with financing health care. He assumes his new duties this week.

Born Jan. 6, 1887 in Circleville, she was the daughter of Wayne V. and Rose Mader Moffitt. Her husband, Robert Merz, preceded her in death.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Blue, Mrs. Harold Edwards, Mrs. John Hoernle, all of Columbus; two brothers, James Moffitt, Circleville, Samule Moffitt, Columbus; one sister, Mrs. George Graulich, Miami, Fla.; 16 grandchildren.

MRS. JESSIE L. NEAL

Mrs. Jessie L. Neal, 67, Fostoria, died Monday in Fostoria City Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Born June 15, 1907 in Summersville, W. Va., she was the daughter of John and Mary Harrow Adkins.

She was a seamstress at Bill's Mens and Boys Wear in Fostoria.

Her husband Clark Neal preceded her in death.

Survivors include her son, Newman K. Neal, Fostoria; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Dost, Ashville, Mrs. Phyllis Phillips, Hamden and Mrs. Agnes Keckler, Fostoria; two stepdaughters, Mavis Adkins, Ashville and Bernice Birkhammer, Clay, W. Va.; three brothers, Macel Adkins, Ashville, Brenneith Adkins, St. Louis, Mo., Ford Adkins, Akron and Robert Adkins, Chicago, Ill.; two sisters, Cora Neal, Bicmarc, W. Va. and Laura Smith, Jackson; 22 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Services will be 1 p.m. Thursday at the Hoenig Funeral Home, Fostoria, with Rev. Vernon Billington officiating. Burial will be in Fountain Cemetery, Fostoria.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Tuesday and all day Wednesday.

At 10:38 p.m. Saturday, Tony Lee Patterson, 43, and Paul L. Brungs, 38, Route 2, were both cited by Deputy Marshall for driving while intoxicated. They collided on Route 22 in Wayne Twp. Patterson was treated and released at Berger Hospital emergency room.

At 4 a.m. Sunday on the Westfall Kinderhook Road, David L. Crego, 20, Orient, lost control of his car at the intersection of the Rector Road, damaging 30 feet of fence belonging to Frank Palmer. He was charged with reckless operation by Deputy Sheriff James Fite.

At 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Jayne Dean, 37, Columbus, lost control of her car on the Bolender Pontius Road near the intersection of the Pontious Road. Passengers in her car were Leslie Dean, 12, Kevin Dean, 10 and Keith Fetherolf, 10. Mrs. Dean was charged with reckless operation by Deputy Sheriff Bill Huffman.

At 7:05 p.m. Monday, Brent Tufts, 17, Lockbourne, lost control of his car on the Circleville Lockbourne Road, going into the ditch. He sustained a laceration of the nose. The accident was investigated by Deputy James Fite.

At 8 p.m. Monday, Robert I. Brainard, 23, Elyria, failed to negotiate a curve on the Circleville Palestine Road at the intersection of Guy Road, going into a ditch. His auto destroyed nine rods of fence belonging to Dewey Black. Brainard sustained a laceration of the elbow. The accident was investigated by Deputy Huffman.

Grand Jury Meets Today

Charges against 15 defendants were being heard as the September term of the Pickaway County grand jury met in its first session today.

The jury of nine members is headed by Foreday Helen Eileen Dunkle and her assistant, Phyllis Irene Stoer. The reduced number of jurors and presence of an assistant to the foreday are part of the new court rules recently enacted by the legislature.

Included among the 15 cases are two for which Prosecutor Richard Gerhardt is seeking "secret" indictments from the jury. These two men's names will be withheld until their apprehension by law enforcement officers.

Open Letter

Dear friends,
Have you heard someone say, "We see nothing of each other when alive, why should I visit after someone is gone?" The time of death is no time to be giving expression to inner guilt feelings by outward omissions. The bereaved need all the comfort and support they can receive from relatives and friends. This means their physical presence as an expression of compassion and love, both at the funeral service and during the trying days thereafter.

Respectfully,

Fewer Students, More Teachers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When Ohio schools open this week, there will be fewer students and more teachers. An estimated 2,660,204 students will enter Ohio's 5,038 public schools this fall, down nearly 100,000 students from 1969. Meanwhile, the number of teachers has increased, causing education officials to move toward toughening teacher education requirements. John R. Meckstroth, president of the state Board of Education, said he expects new teacher standards to be ready within the next six months for all colleges and universities.

Computer Aids Land Use Study

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus computer is helping Lake County planners chart future land use, and officials say the system may one day be applied on a state-wide basis. The Lake County Planning Commission used the Ohio Department of Natural Resources computer recently to produce a geological study on the area around Madison, although a county study is also on the list. After being fed information by state geologists and the Northeast Ohio Area-wide Coordinating Agency, the computer printed out a map showing the Madison land's potential and, more importantly, its flaws. For example, it isolated areas where home building would be limited by little well water or poor drainage. It recommended low density construction in another area because of flooding. Likely sites for sand and gravel extraction and sanitary landfills were also noted. "Eventually we want to do the whole state," said NOACA planner David C. LaVelle. An updated computer program covering all of Lake County should be completed by next summer, he said. "Lake County was first for a number of considerations," he said. "It's the smallest county, is suffering developmental pressures and there was a willingness by the planning commission and NOACA to cooperate."

State School Supt. Martin Essex said the goal of teachers when they return to the classrooms following their summer vacations will be to fit the needs of individuals.

"We must design learning opportunities specifically for each pupil," he said.

"We must replace the assembly line, same-instruction-for-all approach which many schools were forced to adopt in the past because of growing enrollment and shortages of classrooms, teachers and dollars."

For teachers already in the classroom, Essex said, "The nation's first systematic preparation of kits containing new knowledge and methods for intensive study by individual teachers or groups of teachers is already underway."

A record 312,000 handicapped children will receive specially designed learning experiences, he said. That's 23,070 more than last year.

Six new vocational schools, serving 8,590 pupils, will open this fall. They include the Ashland, Licking, Muskingum counties and Grant Oaks Joint Vocational School Districts.

Esherick Asks Parole

MARION, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Parole Board was expected to rule today on a request by Fred M. Esherick Jr., for parole from life imprisonment for killing his father in 1967. Esherick, 21, of Painesville, made the request last week from the Marion Correctional Institution. He told the parole board he wants to study criminology at Kent State University or the University of Akron. Lake County Prosecutor Paul M. Mitrovich said he opposes parole for Esherick. Mitrovich said he has psychiatric reports indicating Esherick is potentially dangerous. A spokesman for the parole board said if Esherick's request is approved, it would be the first step toward release. The next step would be review by a furlough board. Esherick was convicted of the May 5, 1967 bayonet slaying of his father at their Painesville home.

Sulphur Spring Fete Planned Sept. 12-16

The village of Williamsport is a beehive of activity making preparations for the third annual Williamsport Sulphur Spring Festival Sept. 12-16. Plans so far call for parades to be held Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening; for a contest to pick the 1973 festival's royalty; a competition among the area's top cooks; and exhibition of antique engines. Each evening the volunteer fireman will be serving delicious fried fish, by sandwich or platter; the local Sorosis club will have a homemade pie concession; American Legion will have Bingo each evening but Sunday. The festival was begun in 1971, the "Brainchild" of then-mayor Ronald E. Bush. Bush remains president of the organization and serves with Eileen Easterday, secretary-treasurer and Mayor LeRoy D. Lane, vice president. The executive committee has worked hard this year to bring new attractions in for the 1973 event. Music will fill the air for evening entertainment Friday and Saturday with a country western show and square dancing and a 50-50 dance sponsored by the Volunteer firemen. A bicycle radeo, talent contest, pet parade, hog calling contest, baby parade and garden tractor pull will also be included in the line-up of activities. Kissell Bros. Amusement Co., Cincinnati, will furnish the midway rides and other concessions. Judges will be looking for the top contestants in the royalty contests Wednesday. Candidates for the little Prince and Princess titles must be age 4 to 8. Boys and girls age 9 through 12 will be judged for the Pre-teen King and Queen and teens from 13 through 19 may qualify for the King and Queen titles of the Sulphur Spring Festival. All contestants for these contests must register by midnight this Saturday by sending a post card with the name, age, and address of the youth festival, Box 328, Williamsport, Ohio, 43164. Royalty contestants will not be in the Wednesday evening parade. Verification of pre-registration contestants will start 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Pavilion with judging to begin at 7 p.m.

Delay Sought In Banking Trial

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Assistant U.S. Attorney Louis Defalaise today planned to seek a delay in the case of Miami financier Alvin L. Kluft scheduled to go on trial Thursday in U.S. District Court on a charge of bank fraud. Defalaise said Monday that he had learned that former Walton, Ky., attorney Truett R. DeMoisey, had been apprehended in Hong Kong and an effort to extradite him from the British Crown colony was underway. Defalaise said he hoped to try both men together in connection with the failure of the Farmers Bank at Petersburg, Ky., in 1970.

Car Careens Over Curbing; 5 Air Show Spectators Die

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Facts in the case of a driver whose car careened off Memorial Shoreway Sunday and killed five persons among a crowd of spectators watching an air show at Burke Lakefront Airport were to be presented to the city prosecutor today. Police identified the driver as Joseph A. Chaney Jr., 22, of Cleveland, who was treated at a hospital for bruises and then taken to the city jail. Chaney's car hit another and then jumped a curb and ran into the crowd before turning over, police said. The accident happened as the Air Force Thunderbirds made a low pass over the lakefront and police said both drivers might have been distracted by the planes. Killed were Gery Williams, 40, of Eastlake, and his son Paul, 7, and Camillo J. Resch, 70; his son, John P. Resch, 36, and grandson, Terry, 11, all of Lorain. Police cars with lights flashing were parked along the shoreway Monday near the grassy knoll where the five were killed. Traffic Commissioner Henry E. Doberstyn said the cruisers were intended to slow down traffic and divert motorists' attention from the exhibition of the Thunderbirds team. To avoid a possible repetition of the Sunday accident, police also ticketed numerous pedestrians for jaywalking across the shoreway. They said most reacted angrily. "People are more preoccupied today with their rights than with their safety," Doberstyn said. "Normally, our problem is to keep traffic moving during the air show because some drivers slow down to watch and risk being struck from behind," the commissioner said. "This time, we decided to slow all cars in the area and give them reaction time to take evasive action." Police said those who were killed Sunday had stopped on the grassy knoll to watch the final moments of the show before proceeding to their homes. When warned by a mounted officer only moments before the fatal crash that the area was dangerous, the people had protested they would "only be here for a minute or two," Doberstyn said.

Dramatic Improvement

Strong measures taken to improve the United States trade balance are having an effect. Month to month performance is still fluctuating widely, but the trend definitely has been set in the direction of exports increasing faster than imports.

In 1971, the U.S. suffered its first trade deficit on this century, piling up a $2 billion loss. The deficit last year more than tripled, to $6.3 billion. It was largely as a result of this trend that foreign currency markets became skittish about the dollar and repeated currency crises ensued.

The first dollar devaluation of 7.89 per cent in December, 1971, appeared to have little effect on the 1972 trade performance. A second devaluation last February of 10 per cent brought more immediate results. In April, for the first time since September, 1971, the nation experienced a trade surplus. It was attributed largely to huge grain shipments.

In May, the deficit reappeared, but it was considerably smaller than in preceding months. In June, the trade exchange was a virtual standstill with a deficit of only $15.5 million. For the first half of 1973, the accumulated deficit of $809.7 million was only one-fourth the deficit for the similar period last year.

It may take a year before exports steadily exceed imports, but the performance so far this year is a dramatic improvement over that of the last two years. If the improvement continues, it should do much to relieve pressures on the dollar in international markets.

A possible relapse in the trade improvement could result from the partial embargo on shipments of soybeans and related commodities. These are heavy dollar producers, especially from Japan which depends heavily upon the United States for soybeans.

The drop in soybean exports will be felt in the coming months. Offsetting this negative factor is the steady improvement in non-agricultural exports. These are growing faster than farm exports.

The improvement in America's trade position in 1973 has not been without cost. The dollar devaluations, the disruption of certain trading markets—the Japanese soybean market, for one—and the effect on domestic food prices as a result of shortages created in part by some of the largest grain exports in history, all have had disruptive effects.

The lesson to be learned from the total experience is that correcting an imbalance as serious as this one had become is much more difficult than taking steps early enough to prevent a rapid deterioration.

Attorney Charles H. May, 90, one of Circleville's most prominent residents, died unexpectedly at his home, 225 S. Court St. Mr. May owned the distinction of being the oldest practicing member of the Ohio State Bar Association and was active in the legal profession for 68 years. He was widely acclaimed as dean of community attorneys.

A total of 3,172 students reported for classes at Circleville public schools. The enrollment was an increase of 160 pupils over the number expected.

Assured that a need existed, the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce moved into high gear in its effort to promote the tax levy for expansion and improvements at Berger Hospital.

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club erected a bulletin board on the front lawn at Circleville High School on S. Court St. The board was used to announce Tiger athletic events throughout the school year.

City council submitted legislation calling for the appointment of an equalizing board to study assessments and all protests concerning Circleville's North Storm Sewer Project.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

All through the year, I have been impressed by the poor posture of so many of my high school pupils.

When I return in the fall I plan on devoting a few minutes of classroom time each day in the hope that I can improve their posture and teach them proper habits.

Can you supply me with some information that I can transmit to them?

Mrs. Y.F., Ohio

Dear Mrs. F.:

Your contemplated program is an admirable one. I have always thought that poor, sloppy posture can be rectified in the young.

The posture of an adult reflects the posture taught him or acquired by him as a child or in adolescence. Attractive posture is very important to one's physical image of himself.

The present vogue for slouching and careless appearance on the part of many young people will eventually reflect poorly on their general attractiveness.

The Department of Education of the American Medical Association has compiled an excellent outline of practical rules for better posture. Psychological as well as physical benefits will accrue if these very sensible suggestions are followed.

Standing

- 1) Keep feet slightly apart: weight balanced on both feet; toes straight ahead.
- 2) Knees straight, relaxed.

- 3) Hips tucked in, abdomen flat.
- 4) Chest slightly up and forward.
- 5) Neck and head balanced over the body, chin in. Stretch up at the back of the neck and head.

Walking

- 1) Shoes must be comfortable and fit well.
- 2) Toes straight ahead.
- 3) Feet parallel and close together as you step.
- 4) Push forward with the back foot.
- 5) Control the length of the step for an even, rhythmic stride.
- 6) Place the heel first in stepping, followed by the outside portion of the sole, and by the forefoot.
- 7) Swing arms loosely and easily.

Sitting

- 1) Keep feet flat on the floor.
- 2) Thighs should be supported by the chair as far as the curve of the knee.
- 3) Back should be supported by the chair back, the body kept straight from the hips to the neck.

Working

- 1) Stand erect, balanced and relaxed.
 - 2) Correct working heights to prevent slumping or excessive reaching.
- Lifting
- Stand close to the object, draw it to the center of gravity, and lift it with the strong muscles of the legs and shoulders.
- Your contribution to your students is commendable!

Fear Of Pain Said Keeping Many From Dentists

FARMINGTON, Conn. (AP) — A dental school psychologist says at least eight million Americans don't go to dentists because they are afraid of pain.

And most of those who do go judge their dentists by how well they minimize pain or stress, according to Dr. Matsyohu Weisenberg.

He suggests that one way to lessen the fear of pain is to turn the dentist's chair into something of a psychiatrist's couch.

"There are dentists who will look only at the mouth and forget it's part of the body. We try to deal with the total person, with all his needs, with all his fears," said the assistant professor at the University of Connecticut.

Besides indicating the location of cavities, patient charts also should list a person's psychological approach to dental treatment, he said.

In an article in the August issue of the Journal of Periodontology, Weisenberg offers these tips to dentists on reducing patient fears:

—Give the patient all the information he can tolerate about what will happen and do it well in advance. —Begin with the easiest and least threatening dental procedures and work up to harder ones.

—Talk in soothing tones and avoid abrupt and startling commands.

—Make a contract stating the dentist will do certain work if the patient follows certain rules. Reduce fees for patients who follow the rules.

Weisenberg said he's used hypnosis in some cases and the technique can block out pain during dental work in nearly one-third of all patients.

Food Faddism Out Of Control

NEW YORK (AP) — Fast food restaurants, food faddism and crash diets are robbing the homemaker of the control she once had over her family's nutrition, according to a study conducted by Hoffman-LaRoche.

"A broad format of group discussions gave the homemakers a chance to discuss wide-ranging issues about family feeding," said John W. Gage, food-nutrition marketing manager of the company.

A Danish Christ

By JEFFREY HART

I suppose it was inevitable that it happened in Scandinavia, the porn capital of the universe, but we are now to be regaled with a Danish movie called "The Love Life of Jesus Christ." In it, Jesus appears in group sex scenes. Explains the writer-director, Jens-Jorgen Thorsen, Jesus' "needs and urges are as earthly as any man's."

I suppose that last thought is unexceptionable enough. The Doctrine of the Incarnation does imply Jesus' complete humanity as well as his complete divinity. But Thorsen can thus explain the group sex perhaps only in Denmark. Oh, yes, "The Love Life of Jesus Christ" also has the protagonist appearing as a bank robber, a woman, a Black Panther, and as Tarzan of the Apes.

Thorsen explains these liberties, if that is the word, by asserting that since little is known about Jesus of a historical nature, he felt free to use his own imagination to create what he views as a wholly contemporary hero. As a matter of fact, more is known about Jesus than about many familiar figures in the ancient world. But, I suppose, Thorsen would also feel free to give the Danish treatment to figures like Virgil or Caesar. Indeed, from the Shroud of Turin we also have a pretty good idea, probably, of what Jesus looked like, but that doesn't stop Thorsen.

To be sure, there is something highly symptomatic about Thorsen's conception of Jesus. Thorsen no doubt thinks of himself as a great, free creative spirit, but he is a mere bubble on the tide of the Zeitgeist.

Nineteenth-century writers like Renan and Strauss gave us a liberal, progressive, humanitarian Jesus, thus foisting off on him the educated ideal of the nineteenth century. The revolutionary Marxism of the 20s and 30s helped to produce many revolutionary versions of Jesus, and we heard a great deal about Lenin and Christ, etc. Karl Barth's Jesus, popular during the 40s and 50s, was an existentialist.

Thorsen's funky Jesus comes to us straight from the 1960s, only a little late. We have already had the rock-hippie Jesus of "Jesus Christ Superstar." Columbia Professor Morton Smith has worked up an academic version of the latter in his book on the so-called Secret Gospel. Smith's Jesus is a magician, a hypnotist and a bisexual, and the baptismal rites include you can imagine what; in short, he comes more out of the ambience of Janis Joplin or Charlie Manson than out of ancient Judea.

Curiously enough, "The Love of Jesus Christ" is being financed by a big grant from the Danish government, plus a heavy investment by one Jens Theader, previously known as a big Copenhagen pornographer.

But perhaps this partnership is also illuminating. Here we have a liberal, progressive, "enlightened" government openly going into business with a pornographer to produce — pornography. Is that the final step toward which "enlightened" and wholly secular thought has long been tending?

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Ever wonder why a snake keeps darting its tongue in and out? It is because its tongue serves it as a kind of nose to let it know when it is near food. Airborne particles land on the forked tongue which carries them back to the rear of the mouth where a chemical analyzer tells the snake, "Yep, that's edible."

It isn't easy to be a soothsayer. In 1900 a writer in the New York Times prophesied the advent of the automobile would solve the parking problem, because an auto occupied less space at the curb than a horse and wagon.

Parents often think they can stimulate their child's intellectual growth by buying so-called educational toys. Some child study experts, however, feel this is largely a waste of money. "The presence of such toys will not make the infant a genius anymore than their absence will make him an imbecile," says David Elkind, University of Rochester psychologist.

What can be done to prevent snoring, which afflicts 25 million Americans and annoys at least that many more? If it is caused by a nose blockage or nasal congestion, minor surgery or an antihistamine remedy can provide relief.

Getting the offender to sleep on his face or side helps, as most people snore while sleeping on their backs. Snoring is also caused by overwork, fatigue, obesity, drinking, and general poor health.

Many profit: Who owns America? Well, more than 32½ million persons now own stock in U.S. corporations.

Women with arms: American women are getting increasingly handy with guns. An estimated 1½ million now take part in trap, skeet, rifle and pistol target shooting. In some meets they have outshot all male competitors.

Exit lines: Dying, Madame de Stael, said, "I have loved God, my father, and liberty." Lord Chief Justice Tenterden of England said, "Gentlemen of the jury, you may retire." Edgar Allan Poe exclaimed, "Lord, help my soul!" Mohammed, the religious prophet, said, "O Allah! Pardon my sins. Yes, I come."

State Fair Attendance Mark Topped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Auditors checked the books today to finalize an estimate that the 120th Ohio State Fair topped all marks in attendance and gate receipts.

The 12-day fair closed Monday after an estimated 2,223,589 persons visited the Columbus exposition grounds.

The previous attendance record set in 1970 was 2,219,170. Last year, 2,209,993 persons went to the fair.

A fair spokesman said more than $1 million were paid in attendance fees from Aug. 23 to Sept. 3. In 1971, a fair record of $997,790.37 was collected at the turnstiles.

On Labor Day, the final day of the fair, 162,050 persons visited the fairgrounds, including many who watched a three-hour Grand Ole Opry performance in the grandstand.

In 1972 on the last day, 169,558 persons celebrated the holiday at the annual event.

Cold refreshment concessionaires told the fair spokesman their sales topped years past as a result of the hot, humid weather this past week.

Hot food stands, he said, were experiencing below average sales during the final fair days.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) I've arranged to have a foreign student stay at my house this fall. Can I deduct the amounts I spend to maintain him in my home?

(A.) You may deduct as a charitable contribution amounts you pay up to $50 per month to maintain in your home a full-time student at a U.S. school. He cannot be in any grade higher than the 12th. The student must be someone other than your dependent or relative. He can be a foreign or American student, but he must be a member of your household under a written agreement between you and a charitable organization to which contributions are deductible. Finally, the purpose of the agreement must be to provide educational opportunities for the student.

(Q.) I opened up an account with a stock broker last March. He buys and sells stocks for me, but I never withdraw any profits from the account. Do I still have to pay taxes on the profits on my 1973 tax return?

(A.) Yes. The fact that you do not withdraw profits from your brokerage account does not postpone taxation of those profits. They are fully taxable in the year earned, even if the credit balance in your account may be reduced or eliminated by losses in later years, or your current profits are used to reduce later losses.

(Q.) I drove 25 miles from my home to an IRS office for an audit, district conference and appellate conference. Can I deduct the cost of traveling to and from the IRS to challenge the result of an IRS audit?

(A.) Yes. Expenses paid of incurred by a taxpayer in connection with a proceeding involved in determining the extent of tax liability or in contesting his tax liability are deductible.

(Q.) Can the beneficiaries of an estate ever be required to pay Federal estate tax for the estate?

(A.) The beneficiaries of an estate may be called upon to pay the estate tax only if the estate does not pay it when due. Even if this is the case, the liability of the beneficiaries is limited to the extent of the value, at the time of the decedent's death, of the property acquired by them. For more information, see IRS Publication 448, "A Guide to Federal Estate and Gift Taxation." It is available for fifty cents at your local IRS office or at your Government Printing Office bookstore.

Remember, federal estate tax should not be confused with federal income tax.

Teachers Strike In Athens County

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With the first day of school one day off for most pupils, Ohio already has its first teacher's strike.

Some 70 teachers stayed home today in the Federal Hocking district near Athens, giving 1,500 pupils in four schools an additional day of summer vacation.

The Federal Hocking schools were to have opened today. Talks between the teachers and the school board reportedly stalled over the teachers' demands for a master contract. The teachers were to meet again tonight.

HAWAIIAN CHARCOAL ROAST

5- to 7-pound chuck roast, about 2 1/2 inches thick

Unseasoned meat tenderizer

1/2 cup soy sauce

1/4 cup bourbon

3 tablespoons lime juice

3 tablespoons water

1 tablespoon salad oil

1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon brown sugar

1/2 teaspoon ginger

2 large cloves garlic, thinly sliced

Trim excess fat from meat; score edges of meat as for steak to prevent curling. Sprinkle meat on all side with about 3/4 to 1 1/2 teaspoons meat tenderizer. Let stand at room temperature for 1 hour.

For marinade, combine all remaining ingredients. Pour marinade over roast; turn roast and spoon some of marinade over top. Cover; marinate at room temperature for 4 to 5 hours. Turn every hour.

Remove meat from marinade; brush off garlic slices. Reserve about 1/2 cup of the marinade. Grill meat about 6 inches from medium hot coals for about 30 minutes to obtain a medium rare roast. Turn meat with tongs about every 7 to 8 minutes, brushing with reserved marinade after each turn. To test doneness, make a small cut near bone.

Remove roast from grill; slice thin, diagonally across the grain. Serve with natural juices.

Hillsboro Clubs Plan Season On Starlings

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)— Two Hillsboro gun clubs will have a three-hour open season on starlings here Saturday— with the blessings of Hillsboro citizens fed up with the birds.

Mayor Dean Hill said the large starling population created health and odor problems this summer in residential neighborhoods. He said the starlings have resisted more humane control measures such as squawking alarms.

The city agreed earlier to give the shooters free rein during three hours Saturday evening when the starlings return from the rural fields to Hillsboro for roosting.

A Cleveland Heights man, Stephen Hopewell, says he's trying to mobilize opposition to the killings in Hillsboro, his home town. Hopewell said the bird is not protected by law.

Junior Women's Club Formed

The Ohio State Federation of Women's Clubs, under the guidance of the Ashville Women's Civic Club, met Thursday evening at the Ashville Coffee Shop, to establish a Junior Women's Club in the Ashville area.

Cities and towns throughout Ohio have profited from the work and activities of such clubs.

Mrs. James Irwin, Civic Club president, welcomed the group of young ladies and introduced Mrs. Jean Holycross of Circleville, District Chairman of Membership with the Central River District of the OFWC.

She told that the Ohio Federation is part of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and as such enjoys the privileges of belonging to an organization serving millions of women from all parts of the world.

On the state level, clubs have joined forces to aid the handicapped, aged, mental retarded, disabled veterans, schools, and libraries. Every town, large and small, can benefit from the efforts of a Federated Women's Club. These groups usually benefit their own community with many projects benefiting the people living there.

A sample of by-laws and list of materials that can be supplied to help with the forming of a new club was shown to the group. She suggested that a nominating committee be appointed at the second meeting to present a slate of officers to be voted upon at the third meeting. A name for the club and a permanent meeting date each month should be established by the next meeting so they can be added to the by-laws.

Mrs. Holycross felt that sometime during their first year a study of a parliamentary law is a must. The one generally accepted by most clubs is the Roberts Rule of Order.

Rand Corp. To Study Health Care

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The Rand Corp. has begun a study to help formulate a health care financing plan for the nation, a spokesman said.

Dr. Donald B. Rice, president of the "think tank" corporation, said Friday that the study could cost $30 million over an eight-year period. The Office of Economic Opportunity has awarded Rand $9 million for the first stage of the study expected to last until 1975, the company said.

The current grant will cover field tests on about 550 families in Dayton, Ohio.

The families will be enrolled in three different health plans to determine which might be the most effective, Rice said.

One group will be placed in a prepaid organization from which enrollees received all their health care at designated facilities for a fixed monthly fee.

In the other two groups, recipients may choose their own doctors but must pay part of the cost themselves. The rest would be paid from insurance premiums.

In one of the latter plans, families would not have to pay any costs of outpatients care. In the other, a $100 deductible charge would be made.

Postal Rates To Be Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service says it plans to raise rates for newspapers and magazines "as soon as administratively possible," probably within two weeks, based on a Cost of Living Council ruling.

The council on Friday exempted the increases from Phase 4 price controls.

The increases will affect second, third and fourth class mail, which primarily includes newspapers, magazines, pamphlets, books and records.

Rates for first class, air mail and packages will remain the same.

Burned Trees Saved For Housing Construction

SONORA, Calif. (AP) — The house you live in may be built from trees that once burned in a raging forest fire.

Logging crews now are hauling out scorched lumber from forests throughout California and other Western states, where the worst fires in 20 years have ravaged nearly 200,000 acres of trees and brush.

Lumber company spokesmen say as much as 90 per cent of the wood from trees killed in these fires is useable as commercial lumber — if loggers can get it out of the forests before it becomes infested with insects.

"Ninety per cent of the time a fire will burn the bark and kill the tree, but the fire's burning so fast it doesn't stay in one spot long enough to destroy the wood," said Mark Bevan, chief forester for Fibreboard Corp., a San Francisco-based firm with timber holdings throughout the West.

Bevan spoke above the hum of buzzsaws felling dead trees in the middle of a burnt-out area in Stanislaus National Forest, 30 miles east of this Sierra foothills town.

A fire that broke out Aug. 17 blackened 17,000 acres and changed the face of the forest for a century in the four days it burned out of control. Bevan's employer owns 5,500 acres in the area.

Smoldering hot spots still send up occasional clouds of smoke, the forest floor is coated with mounds of ashes, and the air still is thick with an acrid, burning odor. But loggers already have begun the job of removing up to 1,000 trees a day before the first snowfall interrupts them.

After the trees are felled, they are cut into 33-foot lengths, "skidded" by tractors to the logging roads, and then hauled by truck to sawmills. Here they will be cut into marketable dimensions — much of the fir going for two-by-fours and plywood, the pine for home exteriors and wall paneling.

Logging in a black forest is much the same as in a green one, Bevan said, except the charred wood covers the men with grime and wears out their saws faster. The over-all operation is simpler than usual, he said, because the men are clearing everything out of a given area, instead of cutting selectively.

Bevan said the U. S. Forest Service puts out "salvage sales" on trees killed on its land, selling private firms the right to remove the trees and market their lumber.

Bevan said most mature trees killed in a fire retain nearly their full economic value if removed soon enough. About the only loss is the bark, which normally is sold for garden mulch and landscaping.

"The real loss is in young growing trees that were our future," Bevan said. "They can't even be used for paper, because the charcoal won't bleach out."

A burnt tree less than 20 years old has no commercial value, Bevan said. Loggers either bulldoze them into large heaps and burn them, or let them stand as shade for green seedlings to be planted nearby.

By winter, most of the 5,000 acre burn area will be a mass of charred stumps. As soon as the snow melts in the spring, the forest will be replanted with 6-inch tall seedlings.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Student Should Cool It

DEAR ABBY: Last year I enrolled in a night class and found myself very much attracted to my professor. He's in his middle thirties, and I'm 22. I purposely got a ride to class one night and asked him if he would give me a ride home. He did, and we sat in front of my house talking for over an hour, and I know he enjoyed it as much as I did.

He didn't ask to see me after that, but I could tell he was very conscious of me. Thinking he needed a bit more encouragement, I wrote him a note telling him I wasn't looking for an affair, just a friendship. He didn't acknowledge the note so I dropped by his office to ask if he had received it. He said he had, but he didn't want to get "involved."

I asked him what he thought of me, and he said: "I think you are 'nice,' but it's not a good idea for us to see each other outside of school."

Abby, I can't forget him. I think he could care for me if he would let himself. Why is he fighting me? I'm not the kind of girl who usually throws herself at men, but I would give anything if I could win him over.

How can I get my foot in the door?

DEAR DIGS: First get your foot out of your mouth. I fear you've already turned him off with your aggressiveness. Cool it. If there is to be any next move, he will have to make it. But don't be disappointed if he doesn't.

DEAR ABBY: Our next door neighbors are lovely people. They are both in their early sixties. Well, "Mister" loves to smoke cigars, and "Mrs." will not let him smoke in the house, so he goes out in the backyard and smokes up a blue storm every evening after supper. Their backyard joins ours.

We have a picnic table in our backyard, and enjoy eating outside, but the fumes from his cigar drifts to our dining area and spoils my appetite. (We live in Iowa, and there's not much of a breeze here.)

They are such nice neighbors always giving us flowers and vegetables from their garden. Should we say anything? Or just eat indoors? I can't take that cigar smoke.

NEIGHBORS
DEAR NEIGHBORS: Try diverting the cigar pollution with an electric fan. I am no smoke-lover, but any man who enjoys his cigar so much he lets his wife chase him out of the house to smoke it needs sympathy and a little compassion.

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago I had a vasectomy. My wife's gynecologist is well aware of this fact. Knowing this, he prescribed birth control pills for my wife.

Don't you think a proper doctor should have consulted me for my opinion before doing this?

I love my wife, but she insists that what she does with her body is her own business.

CONFUSED IN VANCOUVER
DEAR CONFUSED: Why the confusion? A proper doctor's first responsibility is to prescribe for his patient's needs. I'd say your wife's doctor is doing just that.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SMASHED

Turnpike Take Tops Million

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The Ohio Turnpike has recorded its first million-dollar week.

James Shocknessy, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, said Friday the tolls topped $1 million for the week ended Aug. 18.

Another record was set the following day, a Sunday, when 117,962 vehicles used the turnpike. That was a record for a single day's traffic.

Total revenue for the month was $5.4 million, with $4.4 million of that from tolls.

Migrants Glut Common Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — A glut of migrant workers in European cities has kept domestic farm workers in agricultural jobs and prevented the mechanization of farm work in Common Market countries.

That situation has been cited by U.S. officials as a major stumbling block for farm trade negotiations.

Experts in the Agriculture Department have long held that European agriculture is troubled by too many small, uneconomic farms which cannot produce as efficiently as American counterparts.

According to those USDA officials, the European Community (Common Market) has used for many years a system of variable levies and other devices to protect European farmers from foreign competition in their own countries.

The department's Foreign Agricultural Service said Monday in a report that there are about six million migrant workers jostling for jobs in the Common Market countries, compared with one million in 1959.

"These workers are overwhelmingly unskilled laborers, concentrated in the metals industry, construction, catering and engineering," the report said. "Some four million of these migrant workers come from Mediterranean basin countries, especially North Africa."

Most are in West Germany and France where the migrants in city jobs equal or exceed the number of workers on farms.

"Such a preponderance of migrants serves as an impediment to the outflow of workers from domestic agriculture," the report said. "It also works to the disadvantage of the EC (Common Market) by:

— "Reducing the incentive for industry to invest capital in labor-saving techniques;

— "Increasing costs of social welfare programs; and — "Reducing labor costs, thus decreasing the incentive for agricultural workers to move to industry."

The report added that in France foreign migrants in the construction industry are paid about 60 per cent of the wage for a Frenchman, while in Germany they get about 75 per cent.

Student Injured In Lab Explosion

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A chemical explosion in a University of Cincinnati laboratory Monday injured a 23-year-old student and caused $5,000 damage, firemen said.

Officials said David Rochrrock, 23, Pottstown, Pa., was treated at a local hospital for facial lacerations and arm burns then released.

They said Rohrback was conducting an experiment in which methyl alcohol had to be heated. The alcohol apparently exploded, setting the lab on fire, they said.

Probe Blast With Loss Of $100,000

BLOOMFIELD CENTER, Ohio (AP)—The state fire marshal's office and the sheriff's department are trying to determine what caused an explosion which touched off a fire Monday that destroyed a tavern and service station in this tiny Trumbull County crossroads town.

Firemen said damage may exceed $100,000.

No one was injured, according to firemen, who dug through the rubble for hours.

Orwell Fire Chief Bill Barkley, whose territory includes Bloomfield Center, said the explosion occurred in the Colonial Inn and the fire which resulted spread to the service station.

He said firemen were at the scene when the fire touched off a gasoline tank at the service station and flames leaped hundreds of feet in the air.

Barkley said the blast in the tavern hurled debris about 400 yards and caused scattered damage to about 15 nearby homes.

Bloomfield Center is at the intersection of Ohio routes 45 and 87 between Warren and Ashtabula.

3 Ohioans Die In Crash

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—Three Ohio residents died Monday in the state's worst Labor Day traffic accident.

Michigan State Police said the crash involved three cars and occurred 10 miles south of Monroe, near the Ohio border, at the intersection of U.S. 25 and Luna Pier Road.

State Police identified two of the victims as James K. Buie, 28, of Andover, Ohio, and Robert F. Patton, 42, of Toledo, Ohio.

The third victim, who troopers said was an 11-year-old boy, probably will not be identified until today, they said, because he had been staying at a Toledo-area orphanage and personnel from the institution might be brought to Michigan to identify the body.

The three were among 23 persons killed on Michigan roads over the holiday.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

The National Weather Service has predicted an end to a heat wave enveloping Ohio and much of the midwest this week, forecasting showers and thundershowers for some western counties today.

Rain was expected to move across Ohio from the west early today through Wednesday. It should precede a mass of cooler air drifting southeast from the northern plains states, the weather service reported.

Skies across Ohio continued clear overnight. Temperatures were in the 60s and lower 70s.

Temperatures today were expected in the upper 80s and 90s, with high humidity.

Arraignment Slated In Cincy Murder

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Constance Padjett, 32, of Cincinnati, was scheduled today to appear for arraignment on a charge of second-degree murder in the Labor Day shooting of a friend.

Police Chief Knobby Ward said Raymond Smith, 39, was shot through the chest as he barbecued ribs in his front yard.

Nurses Go On Strike

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP) — About 65 registered nurses struck Coshocton Memorial Hospital today in an effort to gain professional recognition, a hospital spokesman said.

The house where gas is born.

It's expensive to duplicate nature's work. But we can do it. Because we must do it.

Federal regulatory policies and unrealistic environmental procedures are delaying the development of badly needed gas from traditional sources of supply. So, Columbia Gas is doing what it has to do. Create gas from something else — such as petroleum liquids.

In Green Springs, Ohio, Columbia is completing a reforming plant to do this, at a cost of over forty-five million dollars. The plant is designed to send eighty-eight billion cubic feet of pipeline quality gas a year into Columbia's delivery lines.

This won't eliminate the energy shortage. But it will help. Clean gas from petroleum liquids . . . just one of the dramatic new ways Columbia Gas is helping to ease a critical energy crisis.

Besides the Green Springs reforming plant, Columbia Gas is also involved in other multi-million dollar synthetic gas projects to help ease the energy crisis. We've contracted to purchase a total of 225 million cubic feet of synthetic gas daily from two east coast reforming plants. These premium priced supplies are expected to be available starting in 1976-77.

Artists Decorate Cincy Buildings

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) A project aimed at attracting artists to the city has expressway motorists and riverfront visitors doing double takes. Art dealer Carl Solway has involved 10 local artists in painting walls on the city's old buildings with stripes, geometric designs, pictures, landscapes and vignettes. One five story building appears to be held together by a huge screw and bolt. Another has eyes looking in all directions. Another has scenes framed in huge make believe windows, depicting a couple approaching each other and embracing. The colors are black and white, yellows, blues, greens and orange. "Essentially," said Solway, "we chose sites we considered to be back doors to the city. When people come into the city off the expressway they encounter unattractive impressions of the city, so we have critically selected sites that feed off the expressway."

Solway began in 1971 by choosing 10 walls, then getting permission from their owners to paint the murals, with no commercial advertising on them. He then chose 10 artists. Each artist chose a wall and prepared a design. Painting contractors then transferred the designs onto the walls under each artist's directions. The first six walls were financed from revenue brought in by selling silkscreen prints of the designs. Each wall project costs $5,000-$6,000 to paint. After those, Solway said, "we were running out of prospects and energy." Solway received a $10,000 matching grant from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Ohio Arts Council. The last of the 10 original murals was completed this summer. "The project was done 100 per cent as community improvement and nonprofit and it sure has turned out that way." He's still trying to come up with his share of the matching fund.

Meanwhile, the group has received two more commissions from private groups. "The response is very positive," said Solway. "We have stimulated projects in Cleveland; Ames, Iowa; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Evansville, Ind., and Dayton. "I think it provides a visual awareness to the community where the cities are gray and colorless. It creates color and excitement instead of the usual kind of visual pollution," he added. Solway said artists are "valuable resources" in the community. "My interest in the project is trying to show the working artist is a resource that hasn't been used as a way of transforming the environment visually. This is a way of forcing the artist to think about public works." "Other artists," he said, "who look at what's being done will begin to think 'What can I do that goes beyond making paintings from an easel in my studio?"

Federal Funds Spent On Psychiatric Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than $1.7 million in federal funds were spent by Ohio welfare agencies for psychiatric evaluations and care of emotionally troubled youngsters during the last fiscal year. State Welfare Director Charles Bates said on Friday the Federal Child Welfare Funds went to build a flood under child-service programs that touched the lives of 45,000 children each month.

Westfall Mustangs Set For Grid Opener

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Coach John Glanton is counting on good size and several key returning veterans to offset the lack of depth and experience on the 1973 Westfall High School football team as the Mustangs prepare for the season opener Friday at Berne Union.

The 33-man Mustang squad includes 10 lettermen back from the 1972 team. Nine seniors, nine juniors, seven sophomores and eight freshmen gridgers comprise this year's team.

Lettermen returning to form the nucleus of this year's team are: Dave Bullock, 5-foot-10, 140-pound, junior halfback; Brice Custer, 5-foot-8, 136-pound, junior halfback; Artie Dick, 5-foot-11, 181-pound, senior fullback; Rick Gaa, 5-foot-11, 170-pound, senior halfback; Walter Garland, 5-foot-10, 175-pound, senior tackle; Tim Hegarty, 5-foot-8, 155-pound, senior guard; Randy Hildenbrand, 6-foot-1, 180-pound, sophomore end; Bill Kisor, 5-foot-10, 176-pound, junior center; Randy Puckett, 5-foot-6, 160-pound, senior end; and Dave Shannon, 6-foot, 177-pound, senior quarterback. Dick and Shannon are both three-year lettermen.

Other members of the squad are: Joe Angles, Chuck Bower, Jim Dawson, Bill Evans, Jim Fausnaugh, Doug Garrison, John Graffis, Terry Hegarty, Drew Henson, Miles Henson, Tim Lett, John Long, Kevin Miller, Howard Rowland, Eric Schleich, Carl Spires, Terry Stevens, Rick Stillings, Gary Thompson, Greg Varney, Mike Weidinger, Jim Wright and Bobby Haller. Larry Mosley and Joe Lemaster are the team managers.

Coach Glanton will be ably assisted by Alan Gabriel, Rick Sims and Bill Montgomery.

The Mustangs suffered a setback when three boys who were being counted on for heavy duty, Wyatt Fraas, Alan Underwood and Ted Hamrick, all moved from the Westfall District.

"Our conditioning program is beginning to pay off and we feel we will field a strong, physical club," Coach Glanton stated. "We have a bunch of kids who want to play football and have excellent morale on the team. We are going to beat some people and expect to have a decent season," Glanton commented.

Offensively the Mustangs will operate from various formations, including a slot with split end, wing and a power I. Shannon, who can run and throw, will direct the attack and the running game will have speed and power.

Linebacker Artie Dick will anchor the defensive unit which will utilize a 6-1, 5-2 and a 6-5 goal line defense. Overall team speed and hard hitting will be the strong point of the Mustang defense.

WESTFALL MUSTANGS

The punting game of the Mustangs will be handled by Artie Dick and John Long. Performing the placekicking duties will be Joe Angles and Bill Kisor.

Coach Glanton feels that Adena and Unioto will be the teams to beat in the race for the Scioto Valley Conference crown but has the opinion that it will be a well balanced league this year and everything is up for grabs.

The Mustang coaching staff has been pleased with the showing of Joe Angles, Jim Dawson, John Long, Gary Thompson and Jim Wright in their efforts to gain a berth on the team.

When the Mustangs take the field Friday night at Berne Union, the starting offensive unit will probably be: Kisor, center; Wright and Tim Hegarty, guards; Garland and Dawson, tackles; Hildenbrand and Puckett, ends; Shannon, quarterback; Dick, fullback; Gaa, halfback; and Angles or Terry Hegarty, halfback.

The defensive unit will be: Tim Hegarty, middle guard; Dick, linebacker; Long or Angles, tackle; Dawson and Garland, tackles; Puckett and Kisor, ends; Wright and Gaa, cornerbacks; and Terry Hegarty and Thompson, halfbacks.

The Mustangs are still in a building program under Glanton, who is in his second year as head coach, but have shown promise and are likely to surprise some people before the season is over.

Here is the complete Westfall schedule:
Sept. 7 At Berne Union
Sept. 14 At Madison Plains
Sept. 21 Adena
Sept. 28 At Paint Valley
Oct. 1 Unioto
Oct. 12 At Zane Trace
Oct. 19 Huntington
Oct. 26 Piketon
Nov. 2 At Johnathan Alder
Nov. 9 East Clinton

Huntington will be the home team on Oct. 19 but the game will be played at Westfall as Huntington does not have a field of its own.

Gary Lillis Lost To OSU For Season

MAKING TRACKS—The new all-weather track at Circleville High School is inspected by Fritz Jacobs (right), superintendent of Circleville schools, Jim Lint (center), head track coach at CHS, and Ed Bohenko, operating manager of the Geo. Van Camp Co. The Reslite track was installed by the Geo. Van Camp Co. and painted by the Al Turner

Co. of Springfield. A computer was used by the Turner Co. to lay out the track and a company spokesman said that it was the most accurate track they have laid out. It is 440 yards with seven lanes and the markings include olympic exchanges. Fences have been installed around the track to protect it while it is still in the curing stage.

Reds Share Lead

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
It was Labor Day and Hank Aaron worked over the San Diego Padres.

Aaron walloped two homers...No. 707 and No. 708 in his pursuit of Babe Ruth's alltime baseball career record of 714. He is six away from Ruth's mark and the Braves have 23 games to play, meaning it will be an awfully interesting September for Atlanta.

The two homers by Aaron and three others by Marty Perez, Paul Casanova and Darrell Evans helped the Braves to a 7-3 decision over San Diego, totally meaningless for two teams stuck at the bottom of the National League's West Division.

In more important action at the top of the division, Cincinnati moved into a tie for first place with Los Angeles by overtaking Houston 4-3 while the Dodgers blew a seven-run lead and lost 11-8 to the San Francisco Giants.

Elsewhere in the NL, St. Louis maintained its one-game lead over Pittsburgh in the East Division, splitting a doubleheader with the Pirates. The Cardinals dropped the first game 5-4 in 13 innings but bounced back to take the nightcap, 8-3. In other games, Montreal defeated Montreal 5-2 and New York split a doubleheader with Philadelphia, winning 5-0 before losing 6-3.

Can Aaron make it to 714 this year? Well, in Atlanta's last 17 games, the 39-year-old slugger has hit seven homers and driven in 21 runs, an amazing pace that would carry him past Ruth this month if he can maintain it. But, of course, he must play and that could be a problem.

"I probably won't play more than half of our remaining games," said Aaron. "It's possible. It can happen. But I'm not going to play that much more this season. No day games and I'll probably lay off some of the night games."

Atlanta has five day games and 18 night games remaining this season.

Reds 4, Astros 3
Rookie Ken Griffey delivered a pinch single, driving in his first two runs in the major leagues and lifting Cincinnati to its come-from-behind victory over Houston. The decision left the Reds in a tie with LA for the NL West lead.

Giants 11, Dodgers 8
Bobby Bonds smashed a ninth inning grand slam, climaxing a huge San Francisco comeback that gave the Giants their 11-8 victory over Los Angeles. It was San Francisco's fourth straight victory and left the Giants only five games behind in the West.

Pirates 5-3, Cardinals 4-8
Richie Hebner's 13th inning inside-the-park homer lifted Pittsburgh to its 5-4 first game victory over St. Louis. That triumph gave the Pirates first place in the East by percentage points.

Then St. Louis regained the top spot by copping the second game, 8-3 as Bernie Carbo, Ted Sizemore and Lou Brock drove in two runs apiece.

Expos 5, Cubs 2
Steve Renko drove in two runs with a double and blanked Chicago for eight innings, pitching and batting Montreal to a 5-2 decision over the Cubs.

New Lights Set At Ted Lewis

The Circleville Youth Baseball Program has completed the installation of lights at the Ted Lewis Park Little League diamond.

Four additional poles and 36 lights were put into place Saturday. This makes a total of eight poles and 60 lights installed at the diamond.

Companies donating labor and equipment were: Marshall McFarland, heavy equipment, Basic Construction Materials, all concrete; and Columbus and Southern Electric, digging postholes.

The city of Circleville provided the funds for the operation.

CHS Grid Tickets On Sale Wednesday

Adult and student tickets for Friday's game between Circleville High School and Grove City will go on sale 3 p.m. Wednesday at Risch and Bingham Drugstores.

Student tickets will also be available at all Circleville City schools.

Ticket prices will be $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Jerry Koosman tossed a seven-hitter and Ted Martinez ripped four hits including a homer to drive in four runs as the New York Mets defeated Philadelphia 5-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

The Phillies bounced back to gain the split 6-3 with Dick Ruthven, making his first appearance after a month-long bout with mononucleosis, getting late inning help from Mac Scarce to nail down the victory.

Angels 3, A's 1
California's Nolan Ryan, who pitched a one-hitter in his last start and two no-hitters earlier in the season, fired a three-hitter and struck out 12 A's to push his major league-leading total to 325, 57 short of Sandy Koufax' one-season record.

Twins 11, Royals 5
Paul Schaal's homer gave the Royals a 5-4 lead in the eighth inning but pinch hitter Rich Reese delivered a game-tying single in the ninth and scored on Eric Soderholm's double. Before the inning was over, Larry Hise doubled Soderholm across, Rod Carew laced an RBI single and Bob Darwin hammered a three-run homer.

Orioles 13-8, Red Sox 8-9
Danny Cater's two-run pinch single on which Tommy Harper scored from first base capped Boston's seven-run rally. All the runs—two came on a double by Mario Guerrero—were unearned thanks to a pair of errors by Baltimore second baseman Bobby Grich.

Earl Williams drove in five runs for Baltimore with a grand slam homer and a solo shot. The Orioles won the wild opener as Paul Blair drilled a pair of three-run homers, one inside the park, and Williams hit another solo blast.

Yankees 4, Tigers 3
Thurman Munson's second homer of the game, a two-run shot in the eighth inning following Joe Coleman's two-out walk to Roy White, lifted the Yankees to only their second victory in 12 games.

White Sox 8-5, Rangers 7-2
Eddie Leon's leadoff double and an RBI single by Chuck Brinkman triggered a three-run Chicago rally in the seventh inning of the nightcap that broke a 2-2 tie. The Sox won the opener as Carlos May drove in five runs.

Pitcher Gets Hit In AL

BY HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Writer

Hank Aaron hit plenty of home runs for the Milwaukee Braves and slammed two more for the Atlanta Braves Monday night but the most unique batting feat of the 1973 baseball season may have been a mere triple earlier in the day by a present-day Milwaukee Brewer with the non-household name of Eduardo Rodriguez.

It came in the eighth inning of the first game of a meaningless doubleheader between the Brewers and the Cleveland Indians and was the first hit by an American League pitcher in this year of the designated hitter.

Rodriguez was the fourth pitcher to bat. Previously, Chicago's Cy Acosta and Oakland's Rollie Fingers struck out and Milwaukee's Chris Short reached base on catcher's interference. Rodriguez' triple thus gave the league's hurlers a collective batting average of .333. Who needs designated hitters anyway?

Elsewhere, the Oakland A's lost to the California Angels 3-1 but maintained their 3½-game lead over Kansas City in the West Division when the Minnesota Twins erupted for seven runs in the ninth inning and beat the Royals 11-5.

In the East, the Baltimore Orioles were about to open a commanding eight-game bulge over Boston when the Red Sox rallied for seven runs in the eighth inning and a 9-8 triumph in the second part of a daynight doubleheader. The win left the Sox six games out since Baltimore won the day game 13-8.

In other action, the New York Yankees edged the Detroit Tigers 4-3 and the Chicago White Sox took two from the Texas Rangers 8-7 in 11 innings and 5-2.

Angels 3, A's 1
California's Nolan Ryan, who pitched a one-hitter in his last start and two no-hitters earlier in the season, fired a three-hitter and struck out 12 A's to push his major league-leading total to 325, 57 short of Sandy Koufax' one-season record.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very interesting day which has tremendous possibilities for advancement but it is necessary that you make a special point to avoid errors that could come from overconfidence. Rely upon your best judgment which is excellent now.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Study the views of one whose background has been different from yours and learn much of value. Don't act hastily where an important matter is concerned. Think along constructive lines.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Instead of arguing about some bill now, study it well and you may find it's not as bad as you think. Show mate you are devoted. Avoid one who may get you in financial trouble. Be alert.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make sure you study every phase of a new arrangement with an associate before you take action. A public duty could be boring, but make sure you attend to it because it is important.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take care of routine duties without complaining or expecting too much help from fellow workers. Show others that you have a good head on your shoulders. Take it easy tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) You have much work to do so take care of duties before seeking pleasure. Your generosity can please others right now. Show more devotion to mate tonight and have increased harmony.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Study a family problem well so that you need not argue with kin, but can handle it intelligently. Take corrective measures to maintain security at home. Sidestep one with far-out ideas.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) Make sure you are mentally alert so that you don't come out the loser at some meetings you may attend today. Don't neglect payments of bills. Show more appreciation to loyal friends.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) You should attend more to the practical affairs in your life or you could stand to lose much in the future. An adviser may not be in good form today, so use own good judgment. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Engage in those activities that you like the most and show good friends how much you appreciate them. Using sarcasm with others could prove costly. Diplomacy is the keynote now.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) Visit with those advisers who have fine ideas and be sure to follow their suggestions if you really want the right results. Give more attention to small tasks. Avoid taking risks.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Know what is expected of you by fine friends and try to please them to the best of your ability. Use tact in dealing with associates and save valuable allies. Relax at home tonight.

PISCES (Feb 20 to Mar 20) Make sure that you attend to career matters that are important. Show that you are conscientious in performance. Handle a credit affair intelligently now, otherwise it could be a loss later.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people who will come out with whatever is on the mind. Teach to think before confiding in others or saying unkind words that could hurt them. Give as much education as your progeny will take and direct it toward work in foreign affairs. Lessons in discipline should be taught. Give ethical training.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — It's hard to believe, but the endless rerun season is about over. Tonight, for example, NBC has no repeat movie. Instead, it's airing a fresh three-hour documentary, "The Energy Crisis."

Next Monday the three network fall season officially will start, with 23 new series and a new weekly variety show scheduled for broadcast between that day and Nov. 14.

The granddaddy of the coming season, of course, is CBS' "Gunsmoke." It starts ABC's 19th season on TV next Monday with Marshall Dillon, Miss Kitty, Doc and the Long Branch Saloon as sturdy as ever.

Monday also is the scheduled starting date of new episodes in the return of "Here's Lucy," "New Dick Van Dyke" and "Medical Center" series on CBS and "The Rookies" on ABC.

NBC will offer two new half-hour situation comedies that evening — "Lola Luck" and "Diana" — and a new Monday night movie. ABC's Monday night pro football games won't start until Sept. 17.

Now, for the determined opening night fan, here are the starting days and dates of other new shows and first-run episodes of series returning this season:

Tuesday — At CBS: "Maude," "Hawaii Five-O" and "Tuesday Night Movies" start Sept. 11. "Hawkins" (new) debuts Oct. 2 and "Shaft" (new) Oct. 9. At NBC: "Chase" Sept. 11, "The Magician" and "Police Story" Oct. 2. All three are new series. At ABC: "The New Temperatures Rising" Sept. 18, "Tuesday Movie" and "Marcus Welby" Sept. 11.

Wednesday — At CBS: "Sonny & Cher" and resume first-runs on Sept. 16.

Thursday — At CBS: "The Waltons" and "Thursday Night Movies" Sept. 13. At NBC: "Flip Wilson" Sept. 20, "Ironside" and "NBC Follies" (new) Sept. 13. At ABC: "Toma" (new) Oct. 4, "Streets of San Francisco" Sept. 13, and "Kung Fu" Sept. 27.

Friday — At CBS: "Calucci's Dept." (new) and "Friday Night Movies" Sept. 14, "Roll Out" (new) Oct. 5. At NBC: "Girl with Something Extra" (new), "Dean Martin," "Sanford & Son," Sept. 14, "Needles and Pins" (new) and "Brian Keith Show," Sept. 21. At ABC: "Adam's Rib" (new), "Brady Bunch," "Odd Couple," "Room 22," "Love, American Style" all start Sept. 14.

Saturday — At CBS: "All in the Family," "M-A-S-H," "Mary Tyler Moore," "Bob Newhart" and "Carol Burnett," all Sept. 15. At NBC: "Emergency" Sept. 22, "Saturday Movies," Sept. 15. At ABC: "Partridge Family," Sept. 15, "Suspense Movie" (new) Sept. 29, "Six million Dollar Man" (new) Oct. 20, and "Griff" (new) Sept. 29.

Sunday — At CBS: "The New Perry Mason Show" (kind of new), "Mannix," "Barnaby Jones," all start Sept. 16. At NBC: "World of Disney" Sept. 16, "Sunday Mystery Movie," Sept. 23. At ABC: "The FBI" and "Sunday Night Movie" each resume first-runs on Sept. 16.

Friday — At CBS: "Calucci's Dept." (new) and "Friday Night Movies" Sept. 14, "Roll Out" (new) Oct. 5. At NBC: "Girl with Something Extra" (new), "Dean Martin," "Sanford & Son," Sept. 14, "Needles and Pins" (new) and "Brian Keith Show," Sept. 21. At ABC: "Adam's Rib" (new), "Brady Bunch," "Odd Couple," "Room 22," "Love, American Style" all start Sept. 14.

Saturday — At CBS: "All in the Family," "M-A-S-H," "Mary Tyler Moore," "Bob Newhart" and "Carol Burnett," all Sept. 15. At NBC: "Emergency" Sept. 22, "Saturday Movies," Sept. 15. At ABC: "Partridge Family," Sept. 15, "Suspense Movie" (new) Sept. 29, "Six million Dollar Man" (new) Oct. 20, and "Griff" (new) Sept. 29.

Sunday — At CBS: "The New Perry Mason Show" (kind of new), "Mannix," "Barnaby Jones," all start Sept. 16. At NBC: "World of Disney" Sept. 16, "Sunday Mystery Movie," Sept. 23. At ABC: "The FBI" and "Sunday Night Movie" each resume first-runs on Sept. 16.

Local 4-H Members Win State Awards

Judy Schein of Pickaway County and Don Drummond of Ross County were winners of the American Youth Foundation Leadership Training Camp award.

The awards were presented at the 4-H Recognition Day Breakfast in the Rhodes Center at the Ohio State Fair Aug. 27, by the Ralston Purina Company. Over 50 individuals were honored at the breakfast.

Judy, a ten-year member of the Deercreek Busybees and Deercreek Livestock 4-H clubs, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schein. Her interests in 4-H activities have included clothing, nutrition, home improvement, entomology, horticulture, beef, sheep and 4-H Band. Furthering her interests in many of these fields, Judy will be a sophomore at Miami University this fall where she is majoring in Home Economics Education.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Drummond and is a 1973 graduate of Adena High School. He is a nine-year member of the Clarksburg Jolly Swine Feeders and the Clarksburg Jolly Beef Feeders and has carried projects in beef, swine, first aid, veterinary medicine and junior leadership. Don will be enrolling this fall in the Agriculture Technical Institute in Wooster.

In addition to the honorary breakfast for the winners and their parents, the award included a trip to a two week leadership training camp at Stony Lake, Michigan.

Top Auto Executives Meet To Discuss Union Demands

DETROIT (AP) — The fate of this year's auto industry negotiations could be determined in large part by a group of powerful corporate executives meeting far from the public eye.

Widely presumed to exist in past contract years, the formal meetings between board chairman, presidents and other officers of the Big Three automakers were acknowledged this year for the first time.

When they sit down at the same table, as they have done at least twice in 1973, the executives bring to the room a combination of industrial might that produced over $60 billion in products last year—roughly equal to the gross national product of Africa.

In addition to these so-called "summit" meetings, top negotiators for General Motors, Ford and Chrysler say they are in contact about three or four times a week, mostly by telephone.

"They'd be fools if they weren't," said one company spokesman of the "foothill" meetings via telephone.

Speculation about both types of contacts among the automakers long has drawn complaints from the United Auto Workers that the firms were taking a "lock-step" approach to the triennial bargaining rounds.

This year, however, UAW hasn't made that much of the makers' new admission, except for a few scattered complaints that Chrysler, the union's target firm, may be getting some pressure from her big sister firms to hold out for a lean settlement.

Although secrecy has surrounded them until this year, the meetings are legal. They are similar to consultations among vice presidents of the different divisions of the UAW, which represents over 700,000 workers at the three firms.

"The meetings are really held for an exchange of information vis-a-vis the talks with the various companies and where the whole negotiation process seems to be going," says Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend.

Man Survives 6-Story Fall

HALLANDALE, Fla. (AP) — A young construction worker who fell six stories to the ground and escaped with limited injuries says he will climb the scaffolds again because that's how he is earning his way through school.

Paul Wilson, 22, of Hallandale was working on an unfinished Miami Beach building two weeks ago when his hard hat fell off and he reached out to grab it.

According to Wilson's coworkers, he plunged like a swan down before striking the hard dirt below.

"I bounced a few times," said Wilson, a senior at the University of Florida. "The line of my body must have absorbed the shock."

Ellsberg Break-In Pondered By Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A county grand jury meets here today to consider possible indictment of former White House officials in connection with a break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

The panel first was to hear testimony from a few remaining witnesses before making any decision. Officials said a lengthy session could delay the handing down of any indictments until late today or early Wednesday.

Sources close to the investigation said those still facing possible indictment are former presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman; former Ehrlichman aide Egil Krogh; David Young, former aide to Henry A. Kissinger; and convicted Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy.

The Pentagon papers trial judge last spring revealed he had been notified that Liddy and Watergate coconspirator E. Howard Hunt had engineered a break-in at the Beverly Hills office of Dr. Lewis Fielding on Sept. 3, 1971. The burglary was undertaken to get Ellsberg's psychiatric records.

The trial judge ruled the break-in and other White House involvement in the Ellsberg case constituted governmental misconduct since Ellsberg was under indictment at the time in connection with the release of the Pentagon papers. Judge Matt Byrne dismissed all charges against Ellsberg and Anthony Russo May 11.

Ehrlichman has said he approved covert investigative activities by a secret White House investigative unit but also has said he didn't know the unit's plans included a break-in.

Ehrlichman has identified Krogh and Young as aides put in charge of the White House "plumbers squad" assigned to plug leaks of secret documents such as the Pentagon papers.

Both men reportedly invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to testify when called before the grand jury this summer.

Dist. Atty. Joseph Busch presented evidence and 29 witnesses to the secret grand jury in June and July, and the panel recessed to consider the data.

President Nixon told a recent press conference he considered the break-in "illegal, unauthorized as far as I was concerned and completely deplorable." He also said he had decided last March, when he learned of the break-in, that the judge and jury need not be told about it because no evidence had been obtained for use against Ellsberg at the trial. The President later changed his stand, on advice of then Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst and others, and ordered that the matter be revealed to Byrne.

Railroad Buff Buys 3 Lines For Pleasure And Profit

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Willis Kyle says he always longed to "fool around" with trains. He has seen his dream come true in the ownership of three short line railroads.

And in addition to fulfilling his ambition, Kyle says his little lines are doing very well financially. He is now president of the American Short Line Association.

"You make a profit on a short line the same way you do if you run Santa Fe or Southern Pacific," said Kyle, who also is president of a wholesale steel firm. "You have to go out and get customers."

"I always wanted to fool around with trains," he said in an interview. "One day, back in 1956, I happened to discover quite by accident that the Bank of California was accepting bids for the Yreka Western Railroad Co."

His $141,000 bid for the northern California line, which another firm wanted for scrap metal, was successful. One of his first moves after getting the Yreka Western was to extend its track one half mile to a total of 11 miles, a short distance but enough to serve the mill of a lumber company signed on as a customer.

In 1970, Georgia-Pacific Corp. sold him its 35-mile Oregon Pacific & Eastern Railway Co. because the firm had depleted the timber in the line's area. Kyle then formed a joint ownership agreement with Bohemia Lumber Co. He has common shares and Bohemia has the preferred shares and a way of getting its logs to the mill.

Kyle's third short line was acquired this year, and it features passenger business. He went to Hawaii and bought the Lahaina Kananapali & Pacific Railroad on the island of Maui. It specializes in tourism—about 900 sightseers a day—and Kyle plans no changes in cargo.

"You can take a freight line and make it a passenger line, but it is tough to turn it around and make a passenger line into a freight line," he said.

He has added passenger service to the Oregon Railroad so tourists could view the area's natural beauty. And movie production companies have used his Oregon railroad in five major films.

MIAMI (AP) — Jack Levy Jr. says he wanted to spend the summer spreading peace around middle America. So Levy, 22, took off in a 1947 airplane on a five-week trip.

The Miami youth, who said he learned to fly before he learned to drive, wrote the word "peace" on a map of the United States. He said he flew his yellow airplane wherever the 13,000-mile-long word took him.

Some people thought he was "some sort of radical" when he explained his flight plan, Levy said. But on many of the 60 landings he made, people invited him into their homes.

On one occasion, "I learned the polka and partied until 4 a.m.," he said.

"There's a lot of good people out there," Levy added.

Miss America Competition Opens At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The 50 contestants in the Miss America Pageant were greeted at a luncheon formally opening the annual competition.

The queens from each of the 50 states arrived here over the weekend for the competition that will culminate in the crowning of Miss America 1974 on Saturday night.

The current queen, Terry Anne Meeuwse of Wisconsin, was forced to skip the luncheon Monday opening the pageant. She continued to recuperate from a mild bout with pneumonia that felled her in Hawaii last week.

Taking Miss Meeuwse's place was Miss America of 1971 — Phyllis George of Denton, Tex.

Albert A. Marks Jr., chairman of the pageant's executive committee, also welcomed the contestants to Atlantic City. He called them "a breath of fresh air" in the midst of the Watergate scandal.

Four contestants had cause for a case of nerves when they arrived at the opening ceremony in two identical outfits. Miss Delaware, Jackie LaGuardia, and Miss New Jersey, Suzanne Plummer, showed up in two-piece pink dresses. Miss New Mexico, Patti Nelms, and Miss Oklahoma, Andrea Jean Hanson, each wore two-piece suits with fur sleeves.

Rehearsals for the pageant TV show opened Monday and the girls were to rehearse again today.

The public here gets its first look at the contestants tonight in the traditional parade along the city's boardwalk.

Chairs, Bicycles Stolen In City

Lawn chairs and bicycles were the target of thieves Monday night on E. Franklin St.

Florence Betts, 445 E. Franklin St., reported the theft of two lawn chairs. A pair of lawn chairs were taken from the Wayne Rhoades residence, 443 E. Franklin St.

Jack Fuller, 315 E. Franklin St., and Mary Easter, 439 E. Franklin St., both reported the theft of a bicycle.

A 10-speed bicycle, belonging to Keitha Wagner, 939 S. Washington St., was stolen sometime Saturday.

NOW! SEE THE FRESHNESS FOR YOURSELF

Consumers rightly expect the foods they buy to be fresh and good. That's why Kroger pampers and protects and rushes the foods we sell to stores at their peak of freshness.

Because we do take such care, Kroger is confident of the freshness of the foods we sell. That's why we can guarantee them on a replacement or money-back basis.

And that is why we open date foods for freshness. Some 1900 foods sold by Kroger now carry an open date—easy to read, such as AUG. 30—to let you know the last day a product will be sold so it will stay fresh for an average usage period (or longer) after you buy it and carry it home.

For more than a year, Kroger has been open dating foods—everything from milk, eggs and bread to many items other grocers don't open date, such as jelly, snack crackers and peanut butter. Now that same service has been broadened to include pre-packaged fresh fruits and vegetables and fresh meats. They'll all carry the freshness date so you can see for yourself how fresh they are.

At Kroger, we believe that consumers have the right to know more about the foods they buy. We're open dating more foods than just about anybody else in the country. This is one more Kroger service designed to help you—the consumer.

WE HEAR YOU
...and we're trying to help!
